

A woman and a man, both wearing white long-sleeved shirts, grey trousers, and white hard hats, are riding bicycles. The woman on the left is wearing glasses and has curly hair. The man on the right is also wearing glasses and large orange earplugs. They are riding on a paved path in front of a large industrial facility with blue metal structures and pipes. In the background, there are green hills and a body of water under a blue sky with some clouds. The overall scene suggests a commitment to sustainability and safety in an industrial setting.

Everyone is talking about carbon neutrality.

We're working on it.

Proud to be essential. Proud to take action for the planet.
Actions speak louder than words. We are proud of the concrete initiatives that have been put in place to protect the planet. Our Goal: Carbon neutrality by 2050. But, don't just take our word for it, discover our For Generations program and see the actions we are taking.
